GETS SCARED

Sharp intake of breath, but a fast recovery. Rationalizes the shock in moments.

VERY HUNGRY

Barely registers his hunger because he's so involved in his music. "Meh." Throws a pizza pop in the microwave.

GIVEN A GIFT

Genuinely appreciative. "Oh wow, seriously? You shouldn't have. Thanks!" Puts it next to a keyboard and writes a song about it.

COMPLIMENTED

Replies with a confident, "Thanks!" Appreciates the compliment, but would want to move the conversation along.

GETS BORED

Rarely bored. His mind works a mile a minute. Always has multiple tasks on the go—"procrastinates" by switching to a different one.

GETS ANGRY

He's typically mild mannered, but he can really blow up when agitated, especially when he hasn't had time alone to recharge.

GETS SAD

No tears, but goes super introverted. Walks off by himself, away from the group. Doesn't want to talk.

STUBS 'TOE'

If no one's around he'll shout "OW! I stubbed my toe". If the rest of the band's there, he'll man up.
